How has the Pension Schemes Act 2017 affected Master Trusts and how can The Pensions Regulator continue to enforce the greater powers given to them to ensure that the risk of consumers participating in a scheme that does not comply to minimum Government standards continue to decrease? Will the Government's proposed changes to the Auto-Enrolment (AE) thresholds be sufficient to protect the majority of savers throughout the age ranges from a savings deficit towards the end of their working lives and what impact will the possibility of greater drop-out rates following the escalation in rates have on the success of AE? How can the introduction of the Pensions Dashboard effectively achieve the aims of allowing pensions to be more transparent, facilitate greater engagement, give savers more advice and optimise investment?
