Questions and comments from the floor
- 10.00 - 10.50 Developing NICE guidelines in an evolving sector - population health, integration and outcome-based care
In the context of devolved health and social care, how should NICE address the challenges of its continuing role in guaranteeing quality in these areas - and how is the process working so far in areas like Greater Manchester? With issues of health increasingly being considered in wider policy development and implementation, what more can be done by NICE to contribute to wider public wellbeing? How should NICE approach the delivery of a wider range of guidelines to address mental health issues, particularly in areas of priority such as perinatal, postnatal and children's mental health? What more can be done to improve NICE's engagement, not only with patients, but also the wider public?
Robert Meadowcroft, Chief Executive, Muscular Dystrophy UK
