Questions and comments from the floor with Kate Richards, Chief Inspector, Independent Schools Inspectorate
- 11.35 - 12.25 Student recruitment from overseas and the impact of Brexit
What options should be considered, and steps taken by schools and the sector, to prepare for Brexit and ensure British independent schools remain an attractive option for overseas students, including from Europe? How should the sector be approaching advocacy in Parliament over issues such as the impact on independent schools of government capping international student numbers and the ending of the distinction for independent school recruitment between EU and non-EU students? With the Government expected to launch a consultation on future EEA migration in due course what steps can be taken to provide greater guidance and support to independent schools that will be most affected by the possible loss of income through student fees?
