With the National Maternity Review proposing the introduction of National Personal Maternity Care Budgets, what are the key considerations for wider rollout, and what are the notable lessons in best practice from the Maternity Choice and Personalisation Pioneers? What further opportunities are there for providers and commissioners to encourage further choice for mothers, and what are the options for introducing further personalised care planning? With the Review proposing greater continuity of carer, how can workforce challenges, such as recruitment, retention and a need for increasing the number of carers in the community be overcome to deliver this nationally - and how is this likely to be affected by the outcome of the EU referendum? What opportunities exist for collaboration between providers and commissioners of services and how will the development of community hubs influence this? How should a revised payment system for providers of maternity services be reformed to incentivise the personalisation of care and encourage choice? How can resources be freed up to better support postnatal and perinatal mental health services?
