What more should be done by Clinical Commissioning Groups, local authorities and NHS England to deliver tailored and compassionate care which reflects the needs and preferences of the patient? How can the five Priorities for Care outlined by the Leadership Alliance for the Care of Dying People, which aim to improve people's experience of care in the last few days and hours of their life, best be implemented? What impact will a cap on care costs, set out in the Care Act, have for end of life patients? How can local authorities ensure they are equipped to meet obligations under the Care Act to readily provide information and services? Following The National Care of the Dying Audit for Hospitals, which found that there were significant variations in care across hospitals in England, what more should be done to disseminate best practice in hospital care?
