

Westminster Education Forum policy conference:

Next steps for AI in education - classroom use, curriculum pathways, and the future of assessment

Timing: Morning, Tuesday, 19th May 2026

Taking place online

WESTMINSTER
EDUCATION
FORUM

Draft agenda subject to change

- 8.30 Registration
- 9.00 Chair's opening remarks
Senior Parliamentarian
- 9.05 Assessing AI use in schools - current practice, policy alignment and emerging challenges
Oliver Large, Policy Advisor, Tony Blair Institute for Global Change
Questions and comments from the floor
- 9.30 AI utilisation in the classroom - implementation, governance and effective practice
applying Department for Education guidance on generative AI in education | practical approaches to lesson planning, personalised feedback and adaptive learner support | strategies for reducing teacher and staff workload | safeguarding, risk assessment, supervision and human oversight | governance, accountability and decision-making across schools and multi-academy trusts | staff training, professional development and leadership to support safe and effective adoption | maintaining professional judgement, reliability, fairness and data protection
Alan Stuppel, Director of Maths, Bedfordshire Schools Trust
David Monis Weston, Head, EdTech, Purposeful Ventures
Meredith Reeve, Lead Specialist, Research Strategy, Pearson
Senior representative, teaching union
Questions and comments from the floor
- 10.15 Supporting teachers in adopting AI - professional development, guidance and leadership
Professor Miles Berry, Professor, Computing Education, School of Education, University of Roehampton
Questions and comments from the floor
- 10.35 Chair's closing remarks
Senior Parliamentarian
- 10.40 Break
- 10.50 Chair's opening remarks
Senior Parliamentarian
- 10.55 Regulation and oversight of on-screen assessment
Senior representative, regulation
Questions and comments from the floor
- 11.15 Future of assessment - digital delivery, AI-assisted marking and maintaining standards
balancing efficiency, integrity and professional judgement in on-screen assessments | exploring options for AI-assisted marking and feedback | integrating AI while maintaining qualification standards | approaches to coursework, project-based assessment and moderation | practical implications for schools, colleges and awarding bodies | anticipated outcomes of Ofqual's consultation and maintaining public confidence in qualifications
Ami Jones, Head, GQ Products, Cambridge OCR
Gemma Gwilliam, Regional Digital Lead, Thinking Schools Academy Trust
Dr Madiha Khan, Director, Research and Consultancy, EDUCATE Ventures
Senior representative, subject association
Questions and comments from the floor
- 12.00 Curriculum pathways, digital literacy and preparing the future workforce
embedding AI literacy, online safety and critical understanding across subjects | developing progression routes in computing, AI and data science at GCSE and Level 3 | curriculum implications from the Curriculum and Assessment Review | supporting participation, inclusion and maintaining breadth of provision | aligning school and college provision with employer needs and regional workforce priorities | building long-term skills pipelines under the AI Opportunities Action Plan
Dr Ajaz Ali, Director, Higher Education, Bmet College
Daniel Wilson, Senior Product Manager, Data, AI, Skills and Social Responsibility, UK Impact, Amazon UK
Olly Offord, Policy Adviser, Science Education and Skills, The Royal Society
Paul Amann, Principal Officer, Employment and Skills, Liverpool City Region Combined Authority
Senior representative, school
Questions and comments from the floor
- 12.50 Policy priorities for AI in education moving forward
Katherine Moulds, Deputy Director, Digital Strategy for Education, Department for Education
Questions and comments from the floor
- 13.15 Chair's and Westminster Education Forum closing remarks
Senior Parliamentarian
Sean Cudmore, Westminster Education Forum